

JOHN SANGLEY

ASSOCIATE PRINCIPAL

EDUCATION

BS, Architecture, 1990,
University of Maryland

BACKGROUND

Peter Fillat Architects, Associate
Principal, 1997-Present

Murphy & Dittenhafer
Architects, Designer, 1992-1997

Mr. Sangley's strength lies in his contextual understanding of how buildings interact with one another, individuals, and the community as a whole. Mr. Sangley takes a sculptural approach to architecture and design, dismantling everything he sees and then rearranging and repurposing the buildings, city blocks, and spaces for different, more relevant uses. Constantly streaming thoughts allow Mr. Sangley to continuously analyze a problem, react to existing conditions and process through to innovative solutions to building and community issues. This thought process allows for thoughtful, sensitive solutions to what are extraordinarily complex problems.
